House Postpones Debate On Controls

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—(AP)—The house today postponed until at least tomorrow further debate on an economic controls bill—while its banking committee worked on a compromise.

Speaker Rayburn told townsmen he hoped that the house would be in a position to resume consideration of the bill tomorrow. It already has spent almost a week on controls legislation without making any substantial progress.

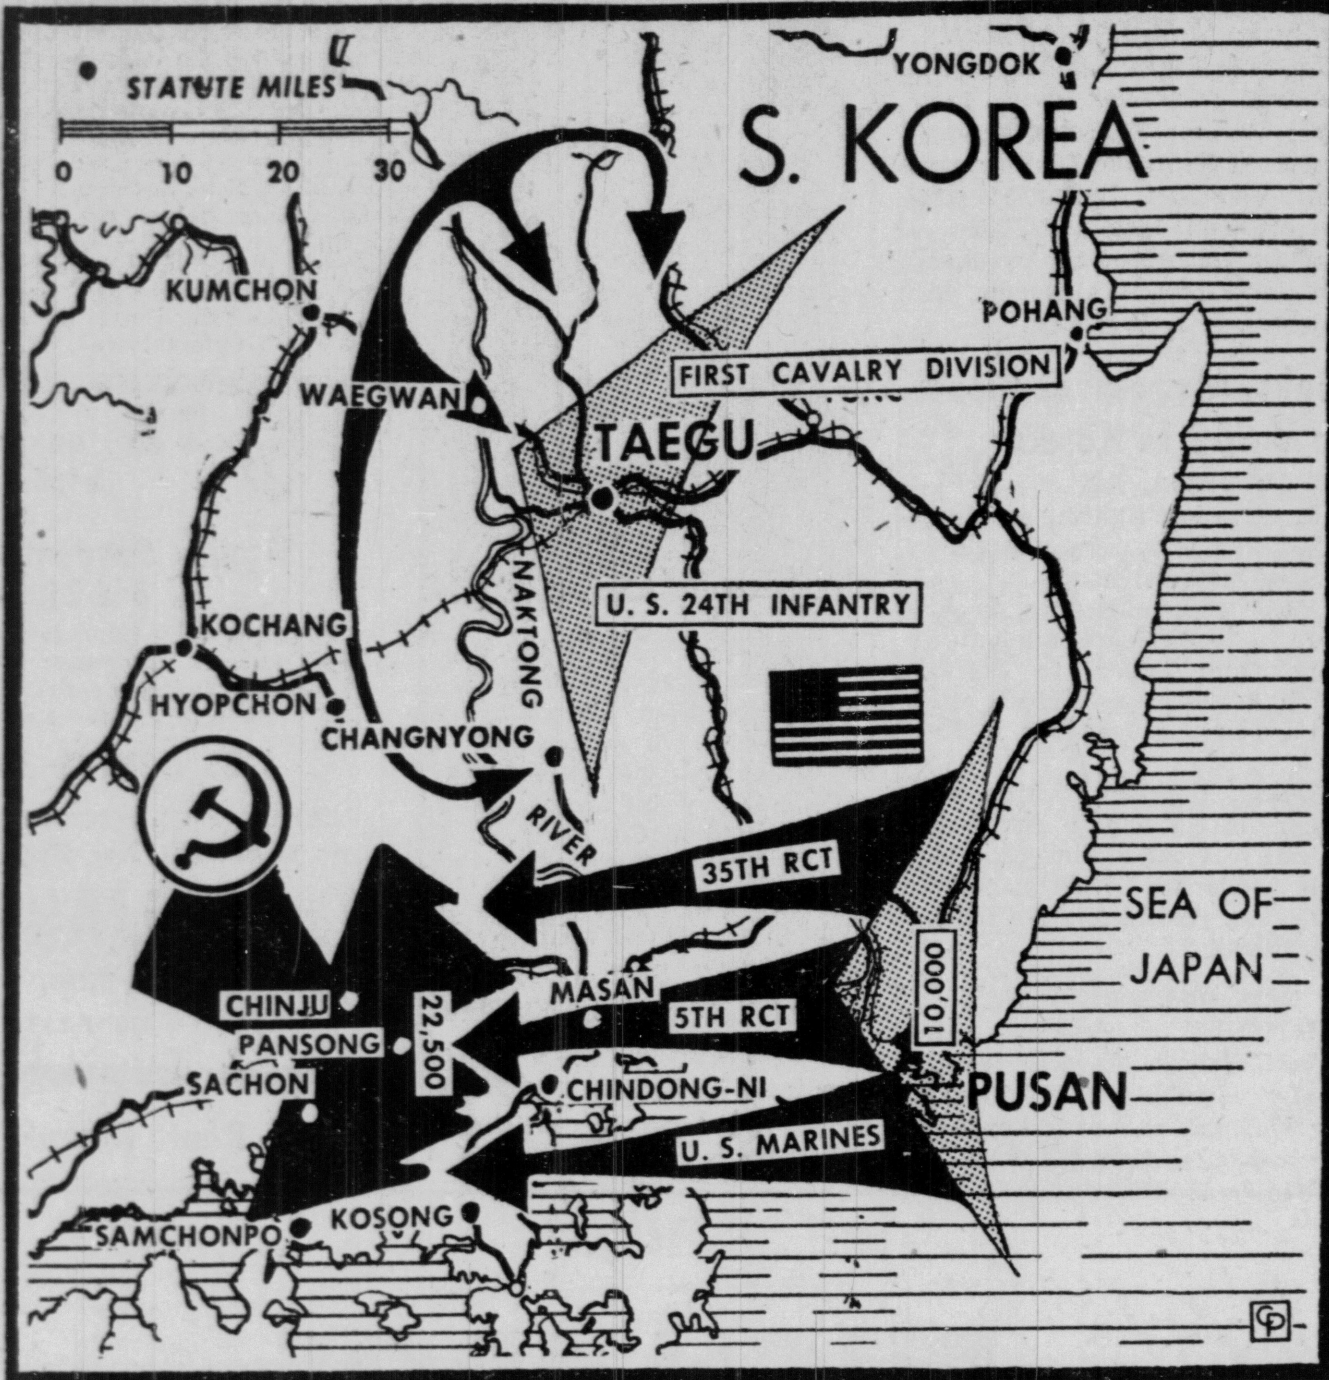

Chairman Spence (D-Ky.) said the banking committee would meet again this afternoon to seek a common ground on which opposing factions could agree. He expressed hope that an agreement would be reached shortly.

There was a possibility that the senate may pass a controls bill before the house does. The senate banking committee reached agreement on a bill last night, and that bill is being used as a base for the house committee's discussions.

President Truman would get virtually full discretion as to when or whether to impose economic controls under the senate committee plan.

LAUNCHING THE KOREAN WAR'S first counter-offensive, U. S. Marine and Army troops advance 3,000 yards in the southern sector before Red resistance forces them to dig in for the night. Ten thousand Americans were in the counter-offensive, North Korean troops totaled 22,500. The Marines smashed west down the road leading to Kosong and Sachon; the 35th Regiment Combat Team (RCT) was sent through a mountain pass southwest of Chinyoung-Ni; the 5th RCT was thrown into a westward frontal onslaught in the center down the road from Chindong-Ni toward Pansong. Above the Chinju area, U. S. First Cavalry division and U. S. Army 24th Infantry troops unleashed sharp thrusts along the Nakdong river to prevent Red envelopment of Taegu, provisional capital of the beleaguered South Koreans.

Cage Coach Job Now Wide Open

School Board Checks
List Of Applicants

The basketball coaching position at Salem High School is wide open, and the board of education is considering all applications, it was pointed out at its meeting Monday night.

The post was vacated Saturday when Robert Miller, coach for the past six years, resigned.

The board agreed unanimously that all applicants would be considered, whether they be outsiders or members of the present staff. When queried about vacancies, Supt. E. S. Kerr said, "At the present time no vacancy exists in the high school, but there are two in the lower grades."

It was then asked if the board could "make a niche," if it so desired, for the hiring of an outside man.

"Yes," Mr. Kerr said, "by relieving the load of another teacher—that is, by adding one more member to the present staff."

Members expressed the desire to be free to appoint an outside man if the situation warranted it, but believed that they should not ask any high school instructor to step down to teach in elementary school to make room for him.

Mr. Kerr told the board that he has received a great many applications, especially from veterans of military service who have just completed their college education. He promised that all would get complete consideration.

An appointment is expected to be made within a week to 10 days, according to board members.

Tuesday Last Day To Sign For Game

Today at 5 p. m. is the deadline for Salem's young folks to return signed applications for the Junior Chamber of Commerce baseball trip to the Cleveland Indians-Detroit Tigers game Aug. 15 in Cleveland.

Less than 50 drivers have registered with President Horace Schwartz (phone 4584). Both drivers and children are admitted free to the game. Additional drivers are urged to call Schwartz Tuesday.

Marines Call Up 80,000 Reserves

Will Boost Strength
Of Corps To 200,000

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—(AP)—The fighting Marines are digging deep into their existing manpower resources and may call soon for authority to expand.

The corps announced plans yesterday to call up all their 80,000 volunteer reserves. This will give them an active strength of 200,000—and mobilization down to just about as far as they can go now.

However, Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the house armed services committee said Sunday he expects a request from the Defense Department in January for another military appropriation including $500,000,000 to increase Marine Corps strength.

And Rep. Mansfield (D-Mont) told the house yesterday that the Corps should be kept permanently at a minimum of 300,000 men.

"The attempts which have been made to whittle the Corps down to a guard outfit, through appropriations, must be stopped once and for all," Mansfield said.

The first 50,000 of the Marine volunteer reserves are to be ordered to active duty between Aug. 15 and Oct. 31. No mobilization date has been set for the remaining 30,000.

Some women reserves are to be called but the Marines aren't sure how many.

The volunteer reservist is not trained nor paid until called to active duty. The organized reservist trains regularly and is paid.

There were these other military developments:

1. The Coast Guard said it is trying to re-enlist former guardsmen and reservists, between the ages of 17 and 45, in the volunteer reserves. These can not be called to active duty without their consent, the Coast Guard said.

2. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, gave a house military subcommittee a progress report on the Army's tank program. The subcommittee chairman, Rep. Philbin (D-Mass), refused to comment on what Collins said.

3. President Truman got a 30-minute briefing from the joint chiefs of staff on the military situation. Navyally Mr. Truman calls only on Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs, for his fill-in on developments.

4. Senator Byrd (D-Va.) said he understands that "a staggering further increase" in defense spending has been planned. He called on Mr. Truman to let congress in on what he has in mind.

5. The board also received a tentative call of 195 men in the county to be forwarded for pre-induction physicals in September. The total in August is 143.

Names of men who passed their examinations have not been made available as yet.

Battles Fought At Three Points On South Korean Front

Allies Stage Heavy Air Raids

Bombers, Fighters Rip
N. Korean Installations

TOKYO, Aug. 8—(AP)—American F-80 jets roared down over Seoul today and shot up rail yards at the key transportation hub.

One squadron scored several hits on a pontoon bridge across the Han river, the Far East Air Forces summary said. It also strafed anti-aircraft positions.

General MacArthur's Headquarters said the Red Korean flak was the heaviest and most accurate of the war.

Seoul was hit yesterday by B-29s. Fighter planes smashed Red Korean battle lines and communications on the southern front in support of the American offensive.

The biggest B-29 strike was a 450-ton bomb load dumped on the arsenal and rail yards at Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

A smaller B-29 force punished Wonsan, east coast industrial area, with 80 tons of bombs.

A Far East air forces summary said a total of 550 sorties were made by all types of planes, including cargo carriers. The Fifth Air Force said its pilots contributed 419 of the sorties, 366 of them combat missions.

Navy Corsairs, Panthers and Skyraiders flew 203 sorties. Supporting ground troops, they rocketed and machinegunned enemy communications and other targets.

Marine fighter pilots operated in the Chinju area on the southern front. They reported destroying 40 vehicles and a tank near Pansong, a road junction east of Chinju.

The Leatherneck fliers also strafed troop concentrations in nearby villages.

Bombers from two Essex-class carriers reported four direct hits on the vital west Seoul bridge.

Names of men who passed their examinations have not been made available as yet.

San Diego Girl Swims Channel; Shirley Fails

DOVER, England, Aug. 8—(AP)—Florence Chadwick, San Diego swimmer, conquered the English channel today in record time but Shirley May France was forced to give up eight miles off shore.

Miss Chadwick, who is 31 and a professional swimmer, cut the women's record set by Gertrude Ederle in 1926. She made it in 13 hours 28 minutes, one hour and three minutes under the Ederle mark.

She swam to Dover from Cap Gris Nez, France, on a course of at least 22 miles and scrambled ashore through sea weed.

Thousands of persons lined the white cliffs of Dover. Reporters asked Miss Chadwick if she was all right. "Yes," she said, "but these slippery, jagged rocks are not so good to scramble over after a long swim."

"I feel fine and am quite prepared to swim back."

When she was only a quarter mile out, she had been asked if she wanted to rest her legs.

"No fear," she answered, laughing. "I'll keep going now. It looks only another yard or so to the finish."

She actually did not touch dry land, at the end.

"A few feet from the shore line, under the 250-foot cliffs, she clambered into one of her row-boats. But no one doubted that she had finished her swim and made it one of the greatest in the history of channel attempts."

She was not far short—by channel swim standards—the recognized men's record of 11:05 set by France's Georges Michel in 1926.

Miss Chadwick was the third American woman to make this crossing—19 miles as the crow flies, but actually much farther in swimming distance because of the sweep of tides.

The others were Miss Ederle and Mrs. Mille Gade Carson, who crossed in 1926 in fifteen hours and twenty eight minutes.

Shirley May France, the 17-year-old girl from Somerset, Mass., had been swimming 13 hours 46 minutes when she gave up. She was sobbing as she was pulled from the water, within sight of the white cliffs.

Miss Chadwick left France in the darkness 19 minutes ahead of Shirley May.

A long-time champion swimmer, Miss Chadwick completed her first race when she was six years old. In 1945 she turned professional to appear in the film "Bathing Beauty" with Esther Williams. For the past two years, while working for an oil company in Saudi Arabia, she trained constantly, often getting up before dawn for a two-hour swim before going to work. On days off she swam eight to ten hours. The restaurant run by Miss Chadwick's father in San Diego is adorned with about 75 trophies and 250 medals won by his daughter.

The dead included R. N. Fansler, about 65, a farmer; his son, Homer L. Fansler, and Barbara Harris, 4-year-old daughter of the gunman.

After the shooting last night the gunman, identified by Capt. J. A. Tandy of the state highway patrol as William Harris, 39, fled into the heavily wooded area in the hills.

The dead included R. N. Fansler, about 65, a farmer; his son, Homer L. Fansler, and Barbara Harris, 4-year-old daughter of the gunman.

After the shooting Harris forced Fansler's daughter, 15-year-old Lola Jean, and 16-year-old Joyce Thomas, a friend of the family, to accompany him in his car. Miss Thomas was released unharmed, but there were conflicting reports on the whereabouts of Lola Jean.

Some sources said she still was with Harris, but a state highway patrolman reported he spotted Harris alone.

Sheriff Hubert Wright said Harris' wife had been living at the Fansler home recently, although it was not definitely known what motivated the shooting.

Although some stores still report a scramble for sugar and difficulty in obtaining such articles as soap and coffee, the trend in the last week has definitely pointed toward a normal market. Store owners indicate that they no longer see the unfamiliar faces now which had been constantly present in the early days of the Korean conflict.

Sugar buying still is considerably higher than before the Far Eastern crisis, but much of the buying is believed to be due to the canning season.

Enemy Forces Cross River, Threaten Yanks

MacArthur Confident
However; Trapped
U. S. Troops Rescued

TOKYO, Wednesday, Aug. 9—(AP)—Northern Korean troops poured across the Allied Nakdong River defense barrier in Korea and bulged out two miles eastward on a 2,000-yard front Tuesday.

General MacArthur's war summary, released at 11:30 p. m. Tuesday (9:30 a. m. Salem time) said the "possible threat from the small bridgeheads" across the river "has neither increased nor decreased."

Upwards of 9,000 Reds were reported over in two river crossings.

U. S. Eighth army headquarters in Korea said the two Communist bridgeheads were of "primary concern at present."

Trapped GI's Freed
The two-day old American Marine and infantry offensive in the extreme south made small and bloody gains in day-long attacks. Earlier it was bogged by Communist flanking that pocketed one army unit for a while. U. S. Marines broke that up and freed army men from the trap.

The offensive had gained 10 miles and was 10 or 12 miles east of Chinju, Red-held rubble city in the south.

The Red bridgeheads posed threats to Allied forces at two places.

One was five miles north of Waegwan, 15 miles northwest of Taegu, the provisional South Korean capital. The other was six miles south of Changnyong, which is southwest of Taegu.

At least three Red regiments—9,000 men with probably more slipping across behind them in darkness—were over the river in the two spots. Frontline reports said one of eight tanks sighted had been ferried across the river by the Communists.

General MacArthur is sending words of confidence to President Truman.

"Tell the President not to worry. We are confident about the situation over here," he told W. Averell Harriman, the President's special assistant and adviser on foreign affairs, as Harriman left for Washington after a three-day visit that took him to the war-front.

Three Major Battles
The front had exploded into three major battles.

The big one was northwest of Taegu.

Another flamed in the extreme south.

The third was at a Red bridgehead across the Nakdong near

DANBURY, Conn., Aug. 8—(AP)—Richard H. Crowe, New York banker convicted of an $883,660 embezzlement last year, left the federal correctional institution today in a jovial mood.

He said he had "no job in mind."

Then the Crowes headed toward New York City.

Crowe was formerly assistant manager of the Broadway office of the National City Bank of New York. He disappeared in March, 1949, with $883,660 in cash and securities.

Do You Really Want to Take Off Ugly Fat?

Recently there have been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamins plan. It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way. Ask any well stocked Ohio druggist for four ounces of Renel. Mix with 12 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonfuls twice a day.

This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

Renel is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamins plan. You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Renel.

Wings Over Salem

3 Local Pilots Build Airfield

Cooperative Venture Lowers Flying Costs

THE SALEM Cooperative Air Field, situated on the Franklin rd just south of Salem, is everything its name implies. The field was laid out on seven acres of Walter Hilliard's farm and has been a busy hub of air activity all summer.

Three Salem men first envisioned the field as an airport last year. After dozens of hours of planning and work their dream has materialized. Primary sponsors of the airport are Ralph Bartholow, Jr., James Wight and James Jeffrey, Jr.

Hilliard and the flyers made an arrangement under which each plane owner who bases his craft here will pay $25 a year. This plan will be used whether five or 25 planes are kept at the field.

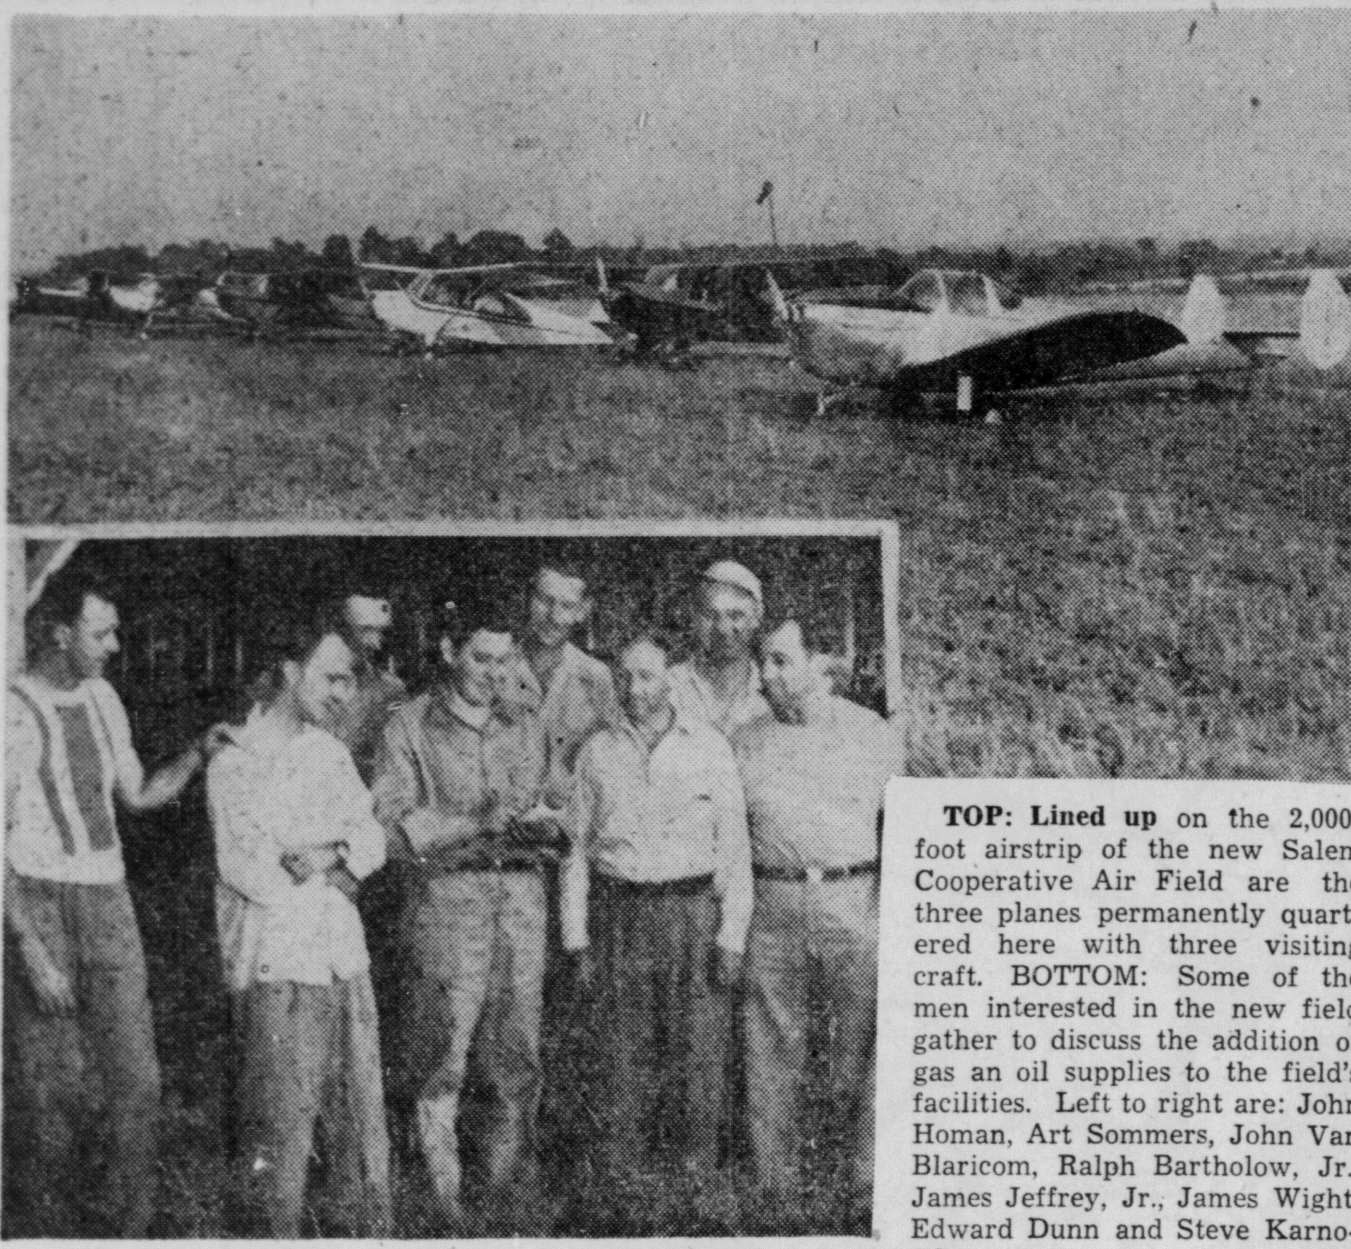

THE LEASED AREA is 2,000 feet long and 130 feet wide, running in an east-west direction. Little grading was needed to provide a level landing strip. This fall, however, the promoters will plow and seed the strip, according to Bartholow. The field drainage of surface water is highly satisfactory.

An aluminum hangar which houses Wight's and Bartholow's planes is nearing completion. Another will be built when needed. Three local pilots have stated they will soon move their planes to the new airport.

The backers also invite all flyers and people coming to or leaving Salem on business to make use of the field. There is no charge for "tie-downs."

The three men express their hope that eventually this field may fill Salem's need for an adequate airport and terminal.

GAS AND OIL supplies for aircraft will soon be available at the field. The men also are discussing the possibility of securing another plane and obtaining the services of a licensed instructor at the field.

All three airmen are relatively new pilots. Bartholow, operator of an E. Second st radio shop, learned to fly last year. He has approximately 300 hours of flying time and now owns a Stinson Voyager.

Wight, a Deming employee, is an example of "life begins at 40," as he waited until he passed that mark before learning to fly. He has an Ercoupe. Jeffrey, employed by Chappell & Zimmerman, is the most recent flying enthusiast. Many evenings each week he can be seen at the controls of his Taylorcraft at the airport.

Trygve Lie Wants Bold U. N. Action

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 8 — (AP)—Trygve Lie says a bold and enlightened act of statesmanship is needed to meet the threat of a third World War.

The United Nations secretary-general gave his views in his 142-page annual report to the general assembly, which meets at Flushing Meadows, N. Y. Sept. 19.

In the report, written July 12, Lie said there was no way of foreseeing the outcome of the war in Korea. He said the breach of peace in Korea interrupted his efforts to get high-level officials of the big powers to resume negotiations.

Need for negotiations, however, will be greater than ever "when United Nations action has succeeded in restoring peace to Korea," Lie wrote.

"I do not believe that member states adhering to the charter can ever accept the doctrine of irrevocable and irrevocable division of the world into warring camps, not so long as the least possibility exists of preventing a third World War by peaceful settlement based on the principles of the charter.

"But I also believe it will take nothing less than a bold and enlightened act of statesmanship to bring about a resumption of negotiations and to halt further deterioration towards another World War."

Chinese Communists Shell British Ship

HONG KONG, Aug. 8—(AP)—Chinese Communist shore batteries fired today on the 5,000-ton British freighter Hangsang. Two ship's officers were wounded by fragmentation.

The shelling was about 15 miles south of Hong Kong in the same general area where five small shells were fired yesterday at the American freighter Steel Rover.

The two wounded British officers were rushed by ambulance to a hospital late today after the Hangsang returned to Hong Kong. Doctors said they were in fair condition.

The men are Chief Engineer Alexander Brown of Pitlochry, Scotland, and Third Officer A. Nelson of Hong Kong.

Steel Where Needed

BEN MORELL, the retired admiral who now heads up Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., has a notion about steel rationing which is going to make sense to his industry's customers.

He would like to see steel producers given full responsibility for dividing up the available supply of steel in whatever national emergency arises. He wants no part of government allocations—the priority system used during World War II. His opinion bears weight as he has had experience with government procurement and now knows the ropes as head of a steel company.

His reasons for staying clear of government allocation are interesting. As stated in an interview by U.S. News & World Report, they consist mainly of a dislike for the political consequences. "I am inclined to fear," he said, "that with mandatory government allocations there would be greater likelihood of political favoritism."

Asked whether favoritism might be shown by steel men if they divided up the supply, Admiral Morell made this statement:

"That fear exists. But it did not work out that way when the industry was given the responsibility for operating the allocations in 1948 and 1949 and when we were not impelled by what amounts to a war emergency."

"I cannot speak for the steel industry but I can speak for the character of the men who are its managers. Those men, if given the opportunity, will see to it that steel is made available for the essential needs of the armed forces and for vital civilian needs. And the distribution will be made without fear or favor and without regard to political consequences."

It's helpful to be reminded occasionally that government rules are no substitute for character and rarely, if ever, can offset its absence.

No Legal Authority

A TEEN-AGE youth looking ahead to his draft registration and aware that he and his friends soon may be leaving home for the fighting forces has no attention to spare for legalisms. His elders' speculation on whether or not there may be a war seems to be out of date.

The absence of a declaration of war at the beginning of an episode which pits United States fighting men against men fighting for another cause does not seem important to the young men doing the fighting either. Certainly it could not have seemed important to the men already killed. And it does not seem important to all the young Americans whose plans are being upset by the prospect of military service.

Yet it will be realized in the days to come that the absence of a declaration of war is a momentous omission in a nation governed according to law. The United States does not have the attitude of a dictatorship. Its public powers are declared on the assumption that they must not—and cannot—be employed until certain formalities have been observed. In the case of war, the formalities hinge upon a declaration of war. Without a declaration, the legal pattern will become confused. The flexibility which is advantageous to a dictatorship becomes, in a constitutional government, an absence of legal authority.

Make An Estimate

THE Bureau of Labor Statistics, in the U.S. Department of Labor, does not attempt to say how many Americans belong to labor unions. It estimates the total at not less than 14,000,000 or more than 16,000,000.

That would put it somewhere in the neighborhood of 10 percent of the total population of the country. Or less than 25 percent of the working population. Moreover, the totals fail to reflect the divisions among and inside the unions themselves. And they do not take into account the members of unions who belong only because that is the line of least resistance.

All of this is obvious, though overlooked by persons who believe labor unions are much stronger than they actually are. Among these are politicians. Many politicians get rabbi at the mention of labor union disfavor—and not without cause. They are afraid of pressure-bloc tactics.

Labor unions have demonstrated vividly how it is possible for a relatively few people who have a program and a knack of making themselves heard to give the impression they are vastly more influential than they actually are.

No one can blame the union bosses for practicing their trade. But everybody who cherishes representative democracy can blame those who are over-susceptible to union pressure in the face of evidence that labor unions in the United States never have been as potent as they claimed they were.

That Radar Fence

By PETER EDSON

Plans Stymied By 49's Tight-Fisted Congress

WASHINGTON CONGRESSIONAL Military Appropriations sub-committees are showing off a lot of righteous huff and puff these days, upbraiding the Pentagon brass hats because they don't ask for more money.

President Truman's request for $10,000,000,000 additional defense money, this year has in general been greeted in Congress with raised eyebrows, wrinkled domes and amazed expressions of, "What! Only 10 billions?"

The inference is that the sky is now the limit and the soldier, sailor and fly-boy can have anything their little hearts desire. Things weren't like that last year.

There is, for instance, the sad story of the American-Canadian radar fence. This, you may recall, was to be the network of radar plane-detection stations. The stations were to be built all around the edge of the U. S. but particularly to the north. So that if any Russian planes streaked across the North Pole with an A-bomb or two, the radar pick-ups would catch them in the act and fighter planes would streak up to stop them before they reached vital targets.

Well, the truth of the matter is that this radar fence hasn't been built yet, although the project was first proposed over a year and a half ago.

A start has been made. But the Air Force, which is in charge of construction and operation, doesn't like to say how much or how little has been done, for obvious reasons of security.

THE REASON for the delay is simply that Congress failed to appropriate the necessary money to finish the job. The last $31,000,000 is just now being appropriated by Congress as part of this year's regular $13,000,000,000 military money act.

The original plan for the radar fence was first presented to Congress in January, 1949. The Air Force had been developing plans for it some months before that. Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent came to Washington and made an agreement with President Truman. The fence was to extend all the way across the Arctic frontier from the Aleutians and Alaska to Newfoundland and beyond, via sea patrols.

Rep. Carl T. Durham of North Carolina introduced the bill to authorize construction. It whizzed through both Houses of Congress and became law in March, 1949. Total cost was to be $161,000,000. The only catch was that Congress never did appropriate any money to do the job. In fact, Congress told the Air Force that if it built the radar warning system at all, it would have to pay for it by diverting money from other projects already approved.

Going even farther than that, Congress specified that not more than $50,000,000 was to be spent on the project for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1950.

By dint of cancelling other contracts, Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force Chief of Staff, managed to scrape together $50,000,000 that he could divert to the radar fence job.

THEN HE HAD to get another act of Congress authorizing him to make the switch. He was finally ready to go ahead with the project only at the end of last December.

A little over $42,000,000 worth of existing radar equipment—mostly World War II material—was transferred to the fence job. The Navy kicked in with four picket vessels, which were to be re-equipped at a cost of $7,000,000. But that still left some $26,000,000 worth of new equipment to be procured. And there was no money for it, unless that, too, was taken out of other funds.

The original bill authorized something over $85,000,000 for acquisition of sites and construction of buildings to house equipment and operating personnel. General Vandenberg's original $50,000,000 diversion went towards that. Defense Secretary Louis Johnston's office kicked in with another $4,000,000 from its special funds. But that still left the Air Force $31,000,000 short of money to finish the fence.

This is the money which Congress is just now getting around to appropriating. In the meantime, it has been found that building costs and radar equipment have both advanced in price. So that instead of costing about $31,000,000 to finish the job, it may cost close to $40,000,000.

By monkeying around in this manner and economizing, Congress has managed to run up the costs by about $9,000,000.

It's no wonder, perhaps, that when congressmen now say, "Why don't you ask for more?" some Pentagon planners start swearing fervently under their breath.

An Easy Out

By TRUMAN TWILL

RELUCTANTLY, because baseball is our favorite game to watch, we confess we never can qualify as a baseball fan in the great American tradition.

Our shortcomings are so numerous and serious they even disqualify us for listening to baseball on the radio, to say nothing of the handicap they add up to on the rare occasions when we attend a game in person.

The principal deficiencies are as follows:

An inclination to admit that the ballplayers know more about what they are doing than we know about what they are doing because they make their living that way and we are only a spectator. This is contrary to the prevailing belief of real baseball fans that they know more about what is going on at all times than the participants.

A conviction that the umpires should be respected even when their decisions are unfavorable because organized baseball hinges on the discipline they represent. This is in direct conflict with the true baseball fan's conviction that umpires, like policemen, should be objects of derision at all times, subject to violent abuse by persons who know nothing whatever about what they're talking about.

A belief that baseball, being America's national game, should be played according to the basic ideals of American sportsmanship and that breaches of the basic code of sportsmanship should not be encouraged by the approval of the spectator, though the latter may have taken their cue in this regard from the eye-gougers who practice bad sportsmanship on television razzing shows.

A hunch that it has no effect on a ballplayer several hundred feet away to be insulted by a spectator huddled in the midst of thousands of other spectators, though what the spectator says may have an effect on his neighbors; namely, to make them itch to flatten his pointed head with a blunt instrument.

A deep desire to enjoy a ball game, because it is, after all, meant to be enjoyed; that it is no occasion for ranting, raving and making sour remarks. This shows naivete. Your true baseball fan enjoys himself by bunting his spleen and getting into a fight, if possible, to blow off his pent-up indignation against a world he resents because only in a ball park can he shoot his mouth with impunity.

An impulse to applaud outstanding performances, regardless of the players' uniform, the color of his skin, his religion, nationality, or the state of his private affairs. This is contrary to the prevailing practice among baseball fans. Perhaps it should be said "most baseball fans," because all fans who happen to read this will be good and sore at the suggestion that they are anything less than the cream of the crop. We don't mean them. We mean those other guys.

This baseball enthusiast feels strongly inclined to switch his devotion to checkers whenever he is in the company of "those other guys." And how can a fellow be sure they are the real baseball fans? Because they say so. They leave no room for doubt, ya bum!

So They Say

THERE won't be a getting together of conservatives unless they abandon the name of the Republican party. I believe the Southern people will always vote the Democratic ticket.

—Ellis Arnall, ex-Governor of Georgia.

Three's a Crowd

Someone Should Be Fired

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON WHATEVER the immediate significance of the Korean war, a profound effect has been produced upon the long-range military policy of the United States.

Never again can America depend on that narrow concept of a one-weapon strategy the failure of which has brought the nation to its senses suddenly to learn that American interests can be as gravely injured by a series of local attacks in different parts of the globe as by a blitz at a given point by the large-scale forces of an enemy.

For one of the worst blunders in all American history has been committed. It is blunder inexcusable because it defied the plain lessons of history taught in every naval or military war college in every nation of the world for centuries past.

The truth is that a nation with global responsibilities, disregarding the simple fact that three quarters of the earth's surface is covered with water, ignored the age-old doctrine which called for the stationing of naval and military forces at strategic locations outside continental United States. America's offensive strength has always been her best defense.

Today Soviet Russia has acquired a vast coast line on the mainland of China and is reaching down with her land armies to Korea and is plainly threatening Japan, Okinawa and the Philippines. Against this the United States has an insignificant fleet in the Pacific Ocean. Its airpower from floating bases is relatively small. It's firepower from battle-ships and heavy cruisers for shore bombardment is virtually nonexistent. It's "hunter killer" defense by planes from small carriers against submarines is tragically absent from important sea areas in our line of communications though the planes and the ships have been available for five years.

HISTORY SHOWS that seapower is basic to the transportation of men and supplies and for the effective use of land-power and airpower at the point of trouble.

Whoever, therefore, scuttled the American navy is responsible for today's debacle having deprived the Navy of its status as a "fleet in being" recognized for centuries as a fundamental principle of national strategy. Those responsible for this mistake in judgment should be relieved of office—civilian or military.

Whoever took away from the United States Army its own airplane units capable of operating always with ground troops—compelling the Army to rely instead on the intermittent help of bombers or inadequate tactical units furnished by the U. S. Air Force primarily and rightly concerned with long-range strategic bombing—should be relieved of office whether civilian or military. For to send a ground army into action today without its own air artillery is like sending infantry into action without ground artillery.

Whoever fostered the idea that land armies of the United States could fight nowadays without armored divisions of tanks in sufficient numbers should be relieved of office—civilian or military.

Whoever sold congress the idea that America would not need overseas bases—floating or fixed—with adequate forces maintained constantly in areas of potential trouble distant from our shores should be exposed to view now.

Politeness, personal friendships or sensitivity, partisanship, are criminal excuses if they stand in the way of punishment of the blunders. No other course will satisfy the mothers of the men who are dying in Korea nor the mothers of many more young men about to die as a consequence of these mistakes.

THE CONGRESS shows signs of preparing a whitewash. A subcommittee of the senate armed services committee has been hastily appointed with hand-picked partisans and already it has been announced in effect that past mistakes will be ignored. What a travesty on congressional government! Will the American people have to punish the Democratic party at the polls next autumn, deprive it of its majority status and accept Republican leadership which has also been indifferent if only now to register a protest and get the President to clean house? He might do it by transfers and camouflage changes in function but the end result should be to get some new military and civilian planners of strategy at the top.

America today needs to fix on a new long-range policy commensurate with her responsibilities in the United Nations. America needs troops amounting to at least 3,000,000 with plenty of tactical aviation of their own, a naval fleet close to what it had in 1945, an Air Force of 70 groups for strategic bombing, and a mobile force of U. S. Marines of at least 250,000 men to be stationed in various parts of the world where it can be supported by the sea power and air power.

These are the real costs of survival. These are the elements of a national strategy based on the lessons of history and experience. The price of peace is never inexpensive and the price of survival always is economic discomfort and sacrifice.

The tragedies of ancient Greece and Rome, the tragedies of Italy and France and Germany and Japan in modern times attest too plainly from a military and naval viewpoint to the disregard by their top commanders or civilian rulers of the significant lessons of strategy in world history.

Korean War

By HAL BOYLE

Bad Spot For Bystanders

IN KOREA

WAR has no box seat for the innocent bystander.

And the tides of combat have turned the roads of South Korea into dust-choked lanes of human misery and death. As you travel up to the front you see such things as these:

A slender middle-aged woman plods along bent almost double by the weight of her mother, a toothless crone who clings to her like a small child playing piggy back. A young lad leads by the hand a blind old man with a white beard thinned by time. A naked wailing little boy trots through the line of refugees looking for his parents. . . .

An elderly couple, too feeble to walk, ride in the back of a jolting ox cart. . . . on a pallet beside them is stretched a youth who looks as if he were dying of tuberculosis. . . . His eyes are filmed in languor and his face as pale as though it already were lit by death's luminous candle. . . . A lame girl with a twisted foot limps after them. . . .

A mother carrying all her household belongings in a bundle on her head holds a baby to her breast and suckles him. . . . Peasant children spread their wares on mats by the roadside. . . . Some pause by rice paddy streams and bathe their bare and swollen feet worn raw by the stone rutted roads. . . . still others lie log-still in exhausted slumber.

OVER THE straggling figures rise storms of yellow dust stirred up by the churning wheels of military vehicles. The refugees clog traffic. Motor horns honk impatiently. Worried truck drivers shout curses. But the refugees move out of the way slowly. They are in no hurry because most of them do not know where they are going anyway.

Many have no homes to back to. Their villages have been burned by artillery fire, strafing plane attacks, or razed by withdrawing American troops to keep them from becoming hiding places for enemy vehicles. The Reds have a habit of driving their tanks through the clay walls of village huts and using the thatched roof as camouflage.

The refugees neither weep nor complain. Nor does one family ask or expect help from blank as that often worn by infantrymen too another. Their expression is as stolid and long in the line—a dumb acceptance of suffering and an indifference to it because their world has no horizon beyond pain.

Only as you near the front yourself do you see fear: Here in panic in the eyes of women and children who flee peaceful homes under the thunder of strange guns. Some wander aimlessly toward the battlelines. To keep these lines clear, South Korean police order the refugees to follow the stream beds back or take paths through the hills.

AFTER DAYS and days of driving back and forth through its shifting, restless, endless sea of human suffering your mind becomes numb to the flight of thousands of individual atoms that compose it. So much distress dulls the eye. You feel sorry for them all but there are so many that only a few cases leave a sore spot in your heart.

I remember two. Crossing a bridge I saw a man in tattered soiled white rags crawling ward us for a moment and then his cane below. He held up a pleading arm to a group of refugees but they turned their eyes away and walked on.

And I guess that is what I did, too. Coming home at twilight, our jeep passed a solitary bearded old native guiding his way down a mountain path by tapping the ditch edge with his cane. He turned his sightless eyes toward us and a moment and then his cane began tapping again. We turned a bend and he was gone.

But all the rest of the way I had a feeling that the blind old man was all humanity himself—a lone refugee fumbling downhill in darkness, stone by stone through a world whose real brightness was shut forever from his eyes.

Perfect Reward for Achievement!

WHEN A MAN PLANS and dares and endeavors until he achieves something out of the ordinary—few would deny him some taste of the fruits of his labor.

"Tis toil's reward that sweetens industry."

"As you have sown, so also shall you reap."

"According to the labour, so is the reward."

And we believe sincerely that—for the average man—there is no sweeter personal reward for achievement than a Cadillac car.

First of all, it is the perfect symbol of attainment. In almost every community where adequate highways exist, Cadillac is known and recognized as the overwhelming favorite of the world's distinguished people.

And few possessions, indeed, can give so much personal happiness to their owners—during so many days in the year.

A Cadillac car is a constant joy to drive. You can sit at the wheel, for hour after hour, completely at ease. Many owners say they drive hundreds of miles each week—just for pleasure and relaxation.

And it adds so much to your satisfaction to know that economy goes with you—each mile you drive.

It actually costs less to buy the lower-priced Cadillacs than certain models of numerous other makes of cars. A single tankful of gasoline will usually suffice for a full day's drive. And the full lifespan of a Cadillac has never yet been measured.

If you are one who has planned and labored until you've earned something special for yourself—come in and see us.

We know you'd enjoy a Cadillac—and even your severest critic would have to admit that it's a practical car to buy.

Court Forbids Engineer From Seeing Children

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8—(AP)—John Henry Grant, convicted of attempting to wipe out his family with a time bomb, has been forbidden ever to see his children again.

The 32-year-old aircraft engineer, who faces a possible 120-year prison term, was divorced yesterday by his wife, Betty, 29. The decree specifically denies him the right to see his two children, Marie Ann, five, and Robert Earle, five. The charge was cruelty.

Grant was found guilty of trying to murder his wife and the children for $25,000 insurance. The bomb, placed in a suitcase, was discovered just before the scheduled departure of an airliner on which they were passengers April 17. No one was injured.

New Operation Used For Lung Disease

ATLANTA, Aug. 8—(AP)—Nearly 100 sufferers of a common lung disease which formerly brought death apparently have been given a future by an operation developed at Emory University Hospital.

An Emory surgeon said the treatment still is in the "evaluation stage but we are very optimistic."

The surgery is tailored for patients suffering pulmonary emphysema, or vanishing lung disease.

Progressive disability of the lungs, sometimes to the extent that a lung disappears, completely, marks the ailment.

The surgeon attributes the disease to several causes, including chronic irritation of the bronchial tubes, infection from excessive smoking and certain industrial hazards.

He explained that the operation actually is only a combination of those used for other diseases, with certain modifications.

It combines the operation for removing massive air sacs from the lungs with the best operation for stopping spasms in the bronchial tubes.

The main contribution of Emory doctors was to prove infection and bronchial irritation were the agents responsible for pulmonary emphysema, he added.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8—(AP)—The revocation of Dr. Mayer L. Nearing's limited-practice license by the Ohio Medical Association was upheld yesterday by Common Pleas Judge Samuel H. Silbert.

General Motors Sets New Income Records

NEW YORK, Aug. 8—(AP)—General Motors Corporation—earning more money now than any company in history—voted yesterday to give its stockholders an extra $110,260,000 dividend.

The move was the latest in a series of record-breaking earnings and dividend announcements the company has made since last fall.

The special payment, amounting to $2.50 per share of common stock, will be paid with the regular third quarter dividend of $1.50. With the two earlier quarterly dividends of $1.50 each, or $3 together, the payments already made or authorized total $7 for only three quarters of 1950.

This compares to an $8 a share total for 1949, which represented the greatest annual dividend payment ever made in corporate history—$351,664,000.

If the company should declare another regular $1.50 dividend for the fourth quarter of 1950, it almost certainly would set another new all-time record.

The new move yesterday followed the company's announcement that its earnings for the first half of 1950 totaled $485,277,389. This is another all-time record-breaking figure and for a six-month period compares to last year's total earnings of $656,434,232.

Aussie Pilot Takes Lucky Shot At Haystack

TOKYO, Aug. 8—(AP)—Australian Mustang pilots strafed a haystack in enemy territory over Korea today—and it blew 3,000 feet in the air.

The Australians did not explain just why they took a pass at the disguised ammunition dump, but a summary released through General MacArthur's headquarters quoted an unidentified squadron leader as saying:

"As I pulled out, I saw flame, smoke and bits and pieces go mushrooming past my tail. The blast started some local fires and just about devastated that bit of territory."

Hub Defeats Bliss 11-10 In Protested Game

Cardinals Lose 2nd In 18 Tilts

Mullins Nips V. F. W.; C. I. O., Saxons Win

Bliss was handed its second loss in 18 contests Monday night at West End Park when The Hub staved off a seventh inning rally to win 11-10 in one of two Class AA League games. The tilt, marred by arguments, was played under protest.

Two Bliss players, Sam Pridon and Bill Davidson, each hit a homer, Pridon slamming his in the third with one aboard and Davidson belting one in the fifth. The Cardinals also out-hit The Hub 15 to 10, but had five miscues to only two for the winners.

Del Court banged out four hits and scored two runs for Bliss and "Hammerin'" Harry Ehrhart, The Hub speed merchant, personally accounted for four runs on three bingles.

The victory was No. 13 for The Hub as against six losses, enabling it to grasp a firmer hold on second place.

Mullins chalked up its eighth win of the season, while taking it on the chin 11 times, at the expense of the V.F.W. by a 4-1 score in the other Class AA encounter.

The Manufacturers rapped out eight safeties with no miscues, while the V.F.W. garnered seven hits and had two errors.

Trailing 4-2 until the top half of the seventh, C.I.O. rolled up seven big runs to submerge Peoples Lumber 9-4 in the Class A League.

Second-place C.I.O. took advantage of nine hits while allowing one misplay and Peoples scored four runs on five hits and three errors.

The Saxons held onto their first-place lead by one game as they walloped last-place M.A.T. by a 10-2 margin in a Class A tilt that went only five innings.

The league leaders collected eight hits while having one miscue and the M.A.T. eked out three bingles and had four errors tabbed against them.

All-Star Game To Be Aug. 18

League Managers To Select Players

The annual Salem softball All-Star game will be played Friday, Aug. 18, Joe Kelley announced today.

Decision to play the game was made Saturday night at a meeting of Class AA and A managers in the Memorial building.

Actually there will be two All-Star games at West End Park that night. The first place teams in both loops will play picked teams from the balance of the loops. In addition, the Class B All-Stars will tangle with Kelley's Old Timers.

The All-Star teams will be chosen by the managers of the 16 AA and A teams. Each is to submit a dream team of eight players and three pitchers to Kelley by this Friday night.

The All-Star managers and umpires will be chosen by the board of commissioners.

Kelley plans to select his own Old Timer team and would not say who it will include, except that the squad will be headed by Jim Primm.

The committee in charge of the games includes the following managers: Ralph Long, Ralph Mancuso, John Ehrhart, Dick Pepel, Paul Ritchie and Grady Odom.

Kelley also announced today that the annual championship playoff series will begin Monday, Aug. 21.

College All-Stars Work Out For Game

DELAFIELD, Wis., Aug. 8—(AP)—The College All-Stars plunged into their final workouts today after a secret drill in Chicago's Soldier Field last night.

The collegians, cream of the 1949 football crop, will face the champions of the National Football League in the big lakefront arena Friday night.

The 50-man squad engaged in a brief review of its fundamental attack with emphasis on passing and kicking. The opening ceremonies, when 11 of the squad will be introduced by positions Friday night, was previewed under spotlights. The starting eleven has not yet been announced.

Head Coach Eddie Anderson of Holy Cross said he plans a final intensive scrimmage today or tomorrow. It will be secret.

Kohlbecker Dies CLEVELAND, Aug. 8—(AP)—Frank Kohlbecker, 53, business manager of the Cleveland Indians from 1937 to 1946, died yesterday at his home in Meridian, Miss., after a long illness.

P. TAYLOR BRYAN III (above) is captain of the St. Louis, Mo., polo team which will come here next Sunday to play the Salem Polo Club in an afternoon match at the Ellsworth road field. Taylor, who has earned a No. 1 rating as a poloist, plays No. 4 position. The St. Louis-Salem game is expected to attract considerable interest.

Fusari Thinks He'll Beat Ray Robinson

JERSEY CITY, Aug. 8—(AP)—Charlie Fusari, the Irvington, N. J., belter thinks he can whip Ray Robinson for the welterweight title tomorrow night at Roosevelt Stadium.

Knocked out by Rocky Graziano last year and beaten by Paddy Young last spring, Fusari knows this is it—or else. If he doesn't beat Robinson, despite the lop-sided odds, he never will. Right or not, that's what he figures.

Charlie doesn't have that problem. Sometimes he soars into the 150 when he fights middleweights. But he was down to 147½ last night after finishing his 42-round training grind.

Robinson doesn't make 147 easy any more. Last time he got on a scale he weighed 149. For his last fight, July 12, he hit 155.

SIGNS WITH INDIANS

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians today announced they have signed Frank Biskup, 17, of Youngstown to a professional baseball contract. The Chaney High School product has a .350 batting average in Youngstown's Class AA amateur play.

DAILY DOZEN By Bob Dixon

According to their coach, Chet Brautigam, several of the Salem Legion players drew raves at the state tournament.

The team was closely watched by a gallery of big league scouts, who were eager for a chance to watch the cream of Ohio's school boy ball players.

Bob Theiss' pitching and hitting drew many comments. He was the only hurler in the tourney to notch three victories. His pal, Bob Coy, who won two games, and batted well, was also rated highly.

Red Weingart, the Damascus outfielder, drew a lot of interest when he banged out five hits during the Friday game.

Five of the Salem kids batted over .300 in the tournament. Tommy Boone led the group with .368, getting seven hits in 19 tries.

Theiss hit .361 on 11 for 31. Coy and Weingart each had 11 for 32, averaging .343, and Gordon Birkhimer hit .312, with 10 hits for 32.

Theiss fanned 43 batters in his three games, allowing 16 hits, six of which went to Galion during the one inning he hurled against the champions.

Coy's strikeout total was 19 in two and a half games and he gave up 19 hits.

Salem had the leading offensive team at Columbus, but one of worst defensive nines. They committed 35 errors in seven games, compared to their 77 hits and 53 runs.

The kids slept in a dormitory in the Ohio State stadium and ate their meals in the college cafeteria. Both room and board was paid by the tournament.

The team was taken on several tours when the boys had time off from the ball field. One such trip included a short term in the Ohio penitentiary.

Brautigam says the boys were happy over their success in the state finals, but were rather ashamed of the stratospheric score in the Galion game.

All the excitement over now, the Junior Legion crew has its sights set on the summer league county championship. They trail East Liverpool in the standings at present.

Rosen Returned To Cleanup Spot

Lou Boudreau Thinks Al Has Found Swing

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 8—(AP)—Manager Lou Boudreau put Al Rosen back in the cleanup spot as the Cleveland Indians got set for a three-game series opening tonight against the St. Louis Browns.

Rosen hit only .250 during the Indians last home stand, but Boudreau thinks the third baseman "seems to have found his swing."

"He didn't hit safely, but he connected solidly" during the last Tribe home game, Boudreau added. Rosen has a .287 average.

The manager, who has been hitting fourth, will go back to the second spot.

Cleveland will be playing one of the two teams which have won a series from them since the Tribe got hot in mid-June. The other club was New York, which took a rubber game Sunday.

The Tribe has beaten St. Louis six times this season and lost four times.

Boudreau named Bob Feller to pitch the first game against the Browns' Al Widmar.

Widmar, who has a 5-8 record, beat Feller, 4-3, on June 27 with the help of home runs by Dick Kokos and Don Lenhardt. He worked in relief July 4 when St. Louis beat Cleveland, 8-3.

Feller has a 10-8 record. He beat St. Louis, 6-2, on April 22, the only other time he has faced the Browns this season.

From here the Indians move to Chicago for four games. They return to Cleveland Monday for a series with first-place Detroit, a team they now trail by three and a half games.

Sometime during the trip Boudreau plans to use Mike Garcia on the mound. The Big Bear has not won a game since June 30 and has not worked since July 30. He got a rest after losing two games he started and being chased from the mound four other times.

The Calumet Farm stallion, Bull Lea, which once stood at a stud fee of $250, had 11 of his offspring sold at auction in 1949 for an average of $20,182 each.

500-Mile Event Will Boost Stock Car Racing In Nation

By OSCAR FRALEY NEW YORK, Aug. 7—(UP)—Stock car racing, the fastest growing sport in the nation, gets its greatest shot in the arm Labor Day down in the cotton, tobacco and peanut country of Darlington, S. C., when the poor man's Barney Oldfields compete in their first 500-mile race.

They come from all walks of life, these hot rod racers—mechanics, bus drivers, barbers and college boys—and more than 200 of them from all sections of the nation will seek the 75 qualifying berths for what shapes up as an annual classic rivaling Indianapolis.

Bill France, president of the National Association for Stock Car Automobile Racing, which is sanctioning the event, believes that the Darlington race may answer more automotive questions than Indianapolis. The tall Floridian, whose NASCAR directs the stock racing from Florida to Canada and from the Atlantic to the Mississippi and disburses 250,000 in prize money annually, explained:

"INDIANAPOLIS doesn't prove anything as far as highway automobiles are concerned, except in the matter of gas and oil performance.

It is so specialized there that it has lost its testing value. But the manufacturers watch the stocks and try to remedy the defects we expose."

Certainly defects will be shown in all models when 75 speed happy pilots go out on Darlington's mile and a quarter asphalt track Labor Day, with $25,500 in prizes waiting for the timing, for they'll use the same clock which timed Sir Malcolm Campbell and John Cobb on the Utah Salt flats.

Requirements to enter the 15-day qualifying trials starting Aug. 19 are few, which is one of the reasons why stock car racing has boomed so terrifically in the last few years. Entrants must be 21 years old or more, have a 1949-'50 or '51 American-made sedan or club coupe and the urge to beat everything else on the circular highways.

DURING THE 15 DAYS of qualifying 10 mile heats, the fastest five will qualify each day for the big race, which means that on Labor Day the guys who love to drive and don't have the money for big, expensive cars, will realize their racing ambitions as they take off, three abreast and 25 deep.

"It gives the hot chauffeurs a chance to work off their steam on a track instead of on the highway," France explained.

This is confirmed by Chief Stanhope Lineberry, who is in charge of the Mecklenburg County, N. C., police. Lineberry's territory includes the Charlotte area, a hotbed of stock racing.

"We have less trouble now and the stock car races are to be credited," he asserted. "The boys work off their speed steam on the track and everybody realizes more fully just how dangerous highway speeding can be."

Indianapolis turned down the offer to stage the 500-mile stock car race, and the big car brass hats may have cause to regret that refusal.

There are 5,000 stock car drivers in the country, with more joining the ranks every day, and someday in the future Darlington may have auto racing's greatest spectacle.

Guilford Anglers In Line To Win Prizes This Summer

Every angler who dips a hook into Guilford Lake stands a chance of hooking two catches at once... a prize beauty and a beautiful prize.

Forty-six awards are being offered to fishermen by the Guilford Lake Park Improvement Association and landing owners at the lake.

The prizes for best catches of the season range from lures to a complete spinning outfit and rods and reels. Donated by merchants and landing owners, the awards are on display at the individual landings.

The contest season expires October 1 and there'll be a special award for the largest big mouth bass caught on Labor Day, Walter J. Hunston, President of the association, reports.

The Guilford Lake Improvement Association is offering awards for the largest small mouth bass of the season, largest big mouth bass, largest crappie, string of five largest bluegills and the largest single bluegill of the season.

In addition, each of the owners of the eight landings along the 7-mile rim of the 380-acre lake are offering prizes in five contest divisions. That's a grand total of 46 prizes awaiting Guilford Lake anglers.

Here are some of the typical awards: glass casting rods complete with reels, Fiberglass spinning rod and reel, fishing tackle boxes, fly reels, radiant heater, casting plugs, cash, and numerous other prizes. Values range up to $50.

ONE OF THE DEEPEST lakes in Ohio, Guilford averages 12 feet and is a splendid spot for shore or boat fishing. The entire shoreline is accessible to fishermen and as many as 4,000 have lined it on a good day.

Anglers from eight to 80 use everything from night crawlers on cane pole lines to the best in casting equipment in their quest for fish.

Guilford is one of Ohio's "liberalized lakes" which has no closed season. In five years more than 100,000 small mouth bass have been deposited in the lake by the fish management section of the Ohio Conservation Department. This is a part of a statistical study to determine fish population. Purpose of the study is to determine whether Guilford fish produce enough offspring to offset 12-month catches.

An excellent supply of food and willow roots and sand bars which provide a splendid spawning environment are among the assets at Guilford, once the nation's best small mouth bass lake. In addition, Mr. Hunston pointed out that Guilford also offers:

Free swimming and beach facilities to accommodate hundreds. Ample supply of rental boats. Bait and tackle available at all times. Licenses on sale at all times. Picnic facilities at several landings.

Rose Bowl Pact Under Fire Again

Illinois Officials Back 3-Year Rule

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Aug. 8—(UP)—Illinois showed signs today of kicking over the traces at the proposed renewal of the controversial Rose Bowl pact between the Big Ten and the Pacific Coast Conference.

The Pacific Coast is understood to want a change in the five-year, closed-shop pact to permit a big ten team to compete once in every two years, instead of once in every three.

But George Stoddard, president of the University of Illinois, said he is opposed to a revision of the three-year rule. That rule, Stoddard said, is a "safeguard against over-emphasis on football in the Big Ten."

Stoddard emphasized that he was expressing a purely personal view, and said he would not tell Dean Robert Browne, the Illinois faculty athletic representative, how to vote when representatives of the two leagues meet in December to negotiate a renewal. However, Browne endorsed Stoddard's stand.

If he backs re-negotiation of the pact, Stoddard will have a powerful ally in Minnesota, which dislikes the Rose Bowl agreement. Northwestern and Wisconsin also voted against renewal negotiations last June, when the vote was 7 to 3 in favor of new talks.

The addition of Illinois would give the anti-pact forces four votes to six for proponents of the deal. Observers believed that either Illinois or Minnesota might swing another league member into line with the dissenters. A 5 to 5 vote would mean no new contract.

In Los Angeles, Willis O. Hunter, member of the PCC's Rose Bowl committee, said he had had "no comment" on Stoddard's statements. He wouldn't say whether the coast conference had requested changes in the present pact.

Two of the three outfielders chosen on the 1950 college All-American baseball team hit more than 400 during the season.

Murray Wall of Texas and Tom Casey of N. Y. U. were chosen pitchers on the 1950 college All-American baseball team.

STILL BOXING—Jack Dempsey waves to his new public from behind the wheel of his One Punch Special, the soap box type of car he will drive in a match at Derby Downs, Akron, O., Aug. 13. In similar motorless jet jobs, Wilbur Shaw, three-time winner of the Indianapolis 500-mile, and Actor Jimmy Stewart will race the former heavyweight champion downhill before the All-American Soap Box Derby.

Bob Hope Enters U. S. Golf Tourney

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Aug. 8—(AP)—Mr. Leslie Townes Hope, clown, took to the Fairways in company with 39 other golfers today in an effort to qualify for the U. S. Amateur tournament.

Other than for exhibition or charity purposes, this will be Bob Hope's first crack at a major golfing fixture. The amateur starts Aug. 21 at Minneapolis.

Hope first must conquer the tricky Bel-Air Country Club greens in today's 36-hole round. Southern California will send nine qualifiers to Minneapolis. Hope is taking up where his perennial links crony, Bing Crosby, left off. Crosby, you'll remember, entered the British Amateur two months back—and lost in the first round.

Hope seems destined for a similar fate because, although Hope will never admit it, Crosby is the better shotmaker by about three strokes. Beneath Hope's buffoonery lies a smooth and occasional sub-par game that has ranked him among filmland's best.

"I'll never forget my first 69," he remarked once. "I don't know when it's coming, but believe me, I'll never forget it."

Actually, the clown prince of golf shoots in the middle 70's at his home club, Lakeside.

Korea Propagandist Is 'Seoul City Sue'

U.S. 8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN KOREA, Aug. 8—(AP)—A Red Korean "Tokyo Rose" began propaganda broadcasts in good American English last night from Seoul, Communist-held capital of South Korea.

Like the Tokyo Rose broadcasts of the second World War, the aim is to undermine soldier morale.

Seoul's woman propagandist chided U.S. airmen for what she called "promiscuous bombing of schools and strafing of farmers" in honeyed tones she urged American soldiers to "return to your corner ice cream stores in the states."

A 558th military police company radio picked up the broadcast. Enlisted men immediately nicknamed her "Seoul City Sue."

BOY, 15, IS SHOT
ASHTABULA, Aug. 8—(AP)—Coroner Clyde Roller today said Joe Foderitti, Jr., 14, accidentally shot and killed his chum, Victor Urbana, Jr., 15.

The youths were headed for target practice yesterday, he reported, when Foderitti bent to tie his shoe lace. The butt of his rifle struck the ground and fired, sending a .22 caliber bullet through the back of the victim's neck, the coroner said.

Five F-51 Pilots Lost In 3 Days Of Battle

U. S. FIFTH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS IN KOREA, Aug. 8—(AP)—Five American F-51 pilots have been lost in the last three days of operations in Korea, a Fifth Air Force spokesman said today.

One of them was lost yesterday during an attack on North Korea positions. The air force's big mission yesterday was to support ground forces pushing slowly forward on the southern front.

Even B-26 light bombers took part in low level strafing attacks on the North Koreans. Fifth Air Force pilots flew 419 sorties Monday. Of these 366 were combat missions.

K. J. Sadamora, who saw him, raced 100 feet to the other end of the huge pipe, dove into the water and held William until police pulled out both. The boy was revived by artificial respiration.

Changnyong where fresh U.S. troops were ordered to destroy the river-crossers by Tuesday nightfall.

But after fighting part of the way up a ridge, the fresh counter-attacking U. S. 24th Infantry troops were stopped by stiff Red resistance.

At 8:45 p. m. Tuesday (8:45 a. m., DST) Maj. Gen. John E. Church told Associated Press Correspondent O. H. P. King the bridgehead could not be cleaned out that night. The general insisted the North Koreans there would be wiped out Wednesday, however.

He said close watch would be kept on the Changnyong area to prevent further Communist crossings of the river.

In the area northwest of Taegu the Communists flung their lines two or more miles beyond the river line. Seven Red tanks, waiting to cross the stream, were under attack by Allied planes.

Enemy Losses High

One of General MacArthur's intelligence officers estimated North Korean losses in six weeks were 44,500 men—an average of more than 1,000 a day in the six-week-old war.

When the fresh Army troops were thrown at the remnants of two regiments near Changnyong two American Mustangs joined the attack and strafed the U. S. doughboys, hitting 19 of them.

Col. Charles E. Beauchamp, commanding the 34th Infantry Regiment, ordered the Reds cleaned out and said their destruction would mean the "end of the Fourth division as an enemy force."

The Changnyong move had been against the weakened U.S. 25th Infantry Division. Its 24th Regiment of Negro troops had been diverted to support the southern thrust by Marines and the U.S. Fifth Regimental combat team. This forced the U.S. First Cavalry Division to extend its line southward 4½ miles along the Nakdong.

In the extreme south the Marines scaled valley walls and fought over rugged hilltops to rescue the Fifth Regimental unit from the flanking attack. The action at Chindong, 12 miles east of Chinju, was where southern Allied forces pulled up Monday after kicking off on their first offensive of the war.

The offensive fighting was intense. American field vehicles rolled over a Red roadblock that had stalled 45-ton General Pershing tanks after one had been knocked out.

Bids On Beaver Creek Bridge Submitted

LISBON, Aug. 8—Contractor Earl H. Newell of Columbiana was the low bidder when county commissioners opened sealed bids for construction of a new bridge at Sprucevale Monday. Newell submitted a bid of $21,550.70, while the Souders Engineering of Lisbon, the lone other bidder, submitted a figure of $21,774.60, both bids being under the estimate of $22,452.70.

The bridge which will span Beaver creek at Sprucevale, replacing the present structure, will be of concrete and steel construction, with two spans of 76.7 feet, and a center pier.

Truman Plans To Send Congress Sabotage Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—(AP)—Speaker Sam Rayburn said today President Truman may send an anti-sabotage message to congress later in the day.

Rayburn made his announcement shortly after he and Vice President Barkley conferred with President Truman along with senate majority leader Lucas and house majority leader McCormack.

Rayburn would not discuss details of the President's message. "It deals with security, sabotage and Communists," the speaker told reporters.

He said the President probably will ask for additional legislation.
